FORT WILLIAM

Magnificently framed by the UK's highest mountain, Ben Nevis, and often described as the Outdoor Capital of the UK, Fort William and its cinematic scenery is a true mountain bikers' paradise.

There are hills. There are Munros. Then there's Nevis Range - the snowsports area and bike park, located some 9km to the east of Fort William, where the Downhill takes place.

Standing proud as one of the sport's most legendary mountain runs, the downhill track here can't be beaten for its sheer spectacle, scenery and gravity-defying drama. A course that's both technically and physically challenging, only the brave have any hope of conquering it.

Just remember, this is the Downhill World Championships, so for those that have been to previous World Cup events, you will see some differences. We hope you enjoy!

FUN FACTS ABOUT
FORT WILLIAM >>

FORT WILLIAM FUN FACTS

2002-

Fort William is the mecca of mountain biking, having hosted every annual UCI MTB World Cup since 2002.

MOUNTAIN BIKING HEAVEN

Fort William and Lochaber is one of Scotland's top mountain biking destinations.

Alongside the two downhill tracks at Nevis Range, there's also the cross-country Witch's Trails, as well as trails at Glencoe Mountain, Glen Loy and Laggan Wolftrax is less than an hour's drive from Nevis Range.

THE GREAT GLEN WAY

Designed by Thomas Telford and completed in 1822, the 60-mile Caledonian Canal links Scotland's west and east coasts along the Great Glen.

Starting in Fort William, it's possible to cycle the length of the canal along the 79-mile Great Glen Way that takes in lochs Lochy, Oich, Ness and Dochfour, before reaching Inverness and the Moray Firth.

BEN NEVIS

At 1345m high, Ben Nevis (translating as 'mountain of heaven' in Gaelic) is the UK's highest mountain and is around 400m taller than neighbouring Aonach Mor, where the downhill events take place.

MOUNTAIN BIKE DOWNHILL

It's all downhill in Fort William where riders take on jumps, bumps, berms and rock gardens against the clock at white-knuckle speeds.

The most fearless will ace their runs. Others will bail. Only the fastest across the finish line will win the Rainbow Jersey.

1

The course at Nevis Range is one of the most physically and technically challenging there is.

2

Stretching to 2.8 km long, it drops 550m down Aonach Mor and every single rock on the way down could potentially cause a rider problems...and there are a lot of rocks.

3

You definitely don't want to miss the legendary Fort William finish, where a huge crowd waits to welcome and celebrate each and every rider that masters the mountain.

ACCESSIBILITY

WHAT'S THE TERRAIN LIKE?

To support your experience, there are a few things that may be helpful to know about the terrain at Nevis Range, should you have mobility needs:

-  General surface throughout the event village is compacted limestone, which can be loose and rough.
-  Should you wish to view from the course, please be aware that this is on a mountainside and is rough and uneven with varying gradients. It requires a certain level of mobility to reach much of the course.
-  For those with appropriate tickets, the gondola travels above most of the course and is accessible.
-  Please note the surface and terrain around the top gondola station is uneven in places.

If you'd like to talk to us about your specific mobility needs, please read on to our Reasonable Adjustments section.

WHAT ARE THE KEY DISTANCES TO BE AWARE OF?

Please find below some helpful distances to support you getting around the Event Village:

ACCESSIBILITY

REST AREAS/QUIET SPACES

Mountain Bike Downhill crowds are very loud. Should you need to take a moment away from the action, there are a few options:

- There is some public seating in the gondola courtyard away from the finish area.
- At the gondola top station, you can take time away from the action and take in the magnificent views over Loch Eil and the West Highlands. You will need a gondola ticket to use the gondola, which can be purchased in advance or on the day itself.

Overall, the mountain biking downhill can get very noisy, so do bear this in mind if you or a member of your party are sensitive to noise. In the past, some parents have brought ear defenders for their children.

Please be aware there are no dedicated prayer facilities on venue.

REASONABLE ADJUSTMENTS

If you have any questions on any of the accessibility information included within this guide, or need to discuss your particular needs, please contact us at accessibility@cyclingworldchamps.com.
